About You:

You have good understanding of Statistics or Mathematics. You have a background as a risk consultant or risk management experience in a large company. You have experience of SAS, R, SQL, VBA & Python, not to mention good power point and excel skills. However, knowledge of other applications would also be an advantage. You have cleared CFA & FRM.

You are aware that life as a consultant is challenging and, at times, extremely demanding. Our customers and our employees are our most important asset, and you are ready to do what it takes to generate good relations, both in-house and externally, and to develop world-class business intelligence capabilities.

You have a degree in economics, statistics, engineering, computer science or business administration - or any other related subject for that matter. The most important thing is that you are passionate about analytics and wish to make a difference. Your communication skills are outstanding, and your written and spoken English are fluent.
